Form 990, Part I, Line 1 - Organization Mission or Significant Activities

In 2022, we expanded the footprint of TMA's virtual outreach to include new educational programming, the creation of additional Affinity Groups, and the second year of a national signature awareness and fundraising campaign. TMA returned to an in-person International Annual Patient Conference, which also had a virtual component for those not comfortable with, or unable to, travel. It was well attended and successful in its mission to bring the myositis patient and medical communities together.

Form 990, Part III, Line 1 - Organization Mission

The Myositis Association is the premier international organization providing important resources, education and support to those in the myositis community. This community consists of children, adults and their families who live with the daunting and life changing physical, psychological and emotional effects of myositis. Nationwide, an estimated 75,000 Americans are affected by this rare disease. Symptoms of myositis include but are not limited to muscle weakness and pain fatigue tripping or falling trouble swallowing difficulty breathing irritations of the skin, joints, and eyes. Myositis is often difficult to diagnose, because many physicians are unfamiliar with the disease and its symptoms. Also, as a rare disease, it can be difficult to enroll enough patients to conduct adequate research of new treatments, and there are often no clear guidelines in the medical community on how to effectively manage patients with myositis. Nevertheless, myositis is a serious and often treatable illness that, in most cases, needs to be managed aggressively. With inadequate or no treatment, myositis can cause significant disability or even death. While symptoms can be managed and remission can occur, there is no true cure for any forms of myositis, and it can be a lifelong illness. The Myositis Association, like many other rare disease organizations, serves a small fraction of the U.S.

population and communities internationally and is a voice for those who must live with the disease. For many people who have myositis, they are grateful that there is an organization like ours to support them. The loneliness of having a rare disease can be haunting, and one of TMA's strategic goals is to help patients overcome their loneliness through support groups, online and print information, our annual patient conference, and connections to expert physicians who can help them cope with their disease. TMA is very focused on creating personal connections and seeing that patients have what they need to best treat and cope with the disease.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a - Program Service Accomplishments

TMA's Support Groups offer members the chance to share their feelings and discuss their concerns with people in similar situations. These groups offered in person and virtually encourage an atmosphere of communication and compassion. TMA supports Affinity Group meeting circles with outreach efforts targeted toward supporting and extending our organization's reach into new communities. The term affinity group is used as a bringing together of people who have commonality. Affinity groups are for individuals who identify as members of the group and can speak to the experience of being a part of the group from an I perspective. These groups also help to address growing health equity and access issues in the rare disease industry. Increased awareness of myositis has the potential to lead to earlier diagnosis and more effective treatments, improving the quality of life for our patients. TMA also advocates for patients through educational and media events, as well as advancing legislation that remove barriers to accessing the best of myositis care. Through public recognition of myositis, increased research funding, greater access to care, and better coverage and reimbursement for treatments, TMA gives its community tools and guidance to make a difference and works to orient legislators to the disease and how living with myositis impacts our patient community. Through the organization's publications, newsletters, website and support groups, TMA educates and supports patients, care partners and clinicians about myositis diseases. TMA has approximately 54 peer-led support groups across the nation that meet periodically throughout the year both virtually and in person. Education and updates are offered through our print and electronically produced newsletter sent to approximately 23,000 members, our videos on YouTube, our Myositis 101 physician and patient booklets, through TMA's social media channels and website, and through our online community forum.

We aim to identify the underlying causes and natural progression of myositis, develop better treatments and more effective therapies, and ultimately to create a cure for this collection of disabling diseases. Scientists, practicing physicians and other medical professionals have supported TMA through our active Medical Advisory Board. This group provides medical information to staff and patients and guides the TMA research program. The Myositis Association recognizes that the myositis patient's best hope for a cure lies in research. TMA offers a research fellowship program to attract and encourage post-doctoral trainees (PhD and MD) and early-career physicians to pursue careers in the field of myositis research. TMA also funds research grants to initiate innovative pilot projects that will support larger funding opportunities. Since 2002, The Myositis Association has funded research almost $9 million designed to understand the underlying causes and natural progression of myositis, develop better treatments and more effective therapies, and ultimately to create a cure.
